NEW BLAST FURNACES TO BE FIRED JULY 1

Improvements and Additions at Monessen About Completed

FREIGHT CASE IS WON

Pittsburg Steel Company Benefits Through Decision of Commerce Commission

Orders have been issued it is stated, to the foremen of the Pittsburg Steel plant at Monessen to be in readiness for the starting of the new blast furnaces there on July 1. It is understood that one furnace will be started at this time.

In connection with this eventful era in the history of the Pittsburg Steel, comes the news of the ruling of the Inter-State Commerce commission that railroads shall equalize the freight rate on ore haulage from the ore fields of the great lakes, giving the Pittsburg district the same rate as the Wheeling district, which is considered a great victory in a commercial way.

Ie directly affects the Monessen plant as it will greatly reduce the cost of raw material and allow the mill to make their own pig iron at minimum cost and place them in line to meet the keen competition which is gradually growing keener all the time.

The fight was made on this issue by the Pittsburg Steel Co., and the decision rendered is glad news to the many independent concerns not only in the iron and steel industry, but in the coke, coal, glass and other lines of business, and railroad companies are given until August 15 to adjust when it is presumed that the 60c rate will be granted the Pittsburg district on ore trame, the same as to Wheeling, a reduction of 36 cents a ton and this will mean a saving of millions of dollars annually to manufacturers in this district.

WORK ON CROSS COUNTY RAILROAD WELL UNDER WAY

Active work on the construction of the Montour railroad the route of which is across the county is going on at various points along the line. The Ferguson Construction company has been awarded the contract for the grading of the roadbed from the Bell tunnel below Greers Station, north west to the McConnell farm, and men are arriving and material is being received daily. A number of the men employed in the work have their families with them, and will live in tents and shacks during the summer.

The contract has not yet been let for the 80 foot cut on the Bell farm. This cut is so close to the tunnel on the Chartiers railway that contractors say there is danger of the blasting causing a cave-in in the Bell tunnel.

The East End Construction company is now engaged in building the cement piers at the creek near the Bell tunnel. The piers will be forty feet high. As a result of the active construction work now going on there is much activity down the valley, and new people are arriving daily.

Further south, as well as at points further north, the work of grading is being pushed with vigor and the fall will see the work well advanced.

Monessen Has Market

Curb Sale of Farm and Garden Truck is Started This Morning

An eage demand for green stuff from the farm was shown when the Monessen curb market was opened this morning for the first time. The demand was far greater than the supply, there not being many farmers there.

The Monessen market will be located on Fourth street between Schoonmaker and Donner avenues every Tuesday and Saturday.

Frm Second street to Sixth street there will be a 12-inch main installed. From that point to Eleventh street there will be a 12 inch main installed. From that point to Eleventh street a 14-inch main has already been laid. The new line will give a better flow of water to the entire system, though it is designed particularly to afford a uow of water direct from the pumping station to Mnessen and Donora. The pressure will be stronger for those two towns and for the hill section of Chalreroi as well through the change.

DAMAGE WROUGHT BY SEVERE WINDSTORM

Gale Blows for Short Time Friday Evening---Trees Blown Down---House on Shady Avenue Has Roof Removed

One of the hottest days of the year was brought to a close Friday evening by a wind and hail storm that came near being devastating. Some damage was reported in the country surrounding Charleroi where the large hail stones pounded down some of the growing crops.

The storm preceded by semi-darkness came at about 5:30. Wind blew a terrific gale. Following it was a rain and then a hail storm, while lightning flashed and thunder roared.

On Shady avenue near Third street the roof of a dwelling house was lifted and tossed on the ground as though it was a feather. From other parts of town shade trees were broken. At the Pittsburg Plate Glass plant lightening burned out a generater. Telephone lines and electric power lines bore well the trouble, but for a half hour or longer power was off on the West Penn Electric company's lines, and the West Side Electric Street Railway suffered inconvenience.

MOTHER OF MRS. E. C. NIVER DIES

Mrs. Mary Murphy Expires Following Long Illness at Home in Johnsonburg

E. C. Niver of the Mail and his son George E. Niver left this morning for Johnsonburg, Elk county, being called there by the death of Mrs. Niver's mother, Mrs. Mary Murphy, widow of the late J. L. Murphy, who died Friday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Murphy had been critically ill for some time, and Mrs. Nive. had been at the bedside of her mother for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Murphy is survived by four daughters are Mrs. Geo. L. Roberts of Pittsburg, Mrs. E. C. Niver of Charleroi, Mrs. M. J. Considinae of Philadelphia and Miss Margaret M. Murphy of Johnsonburg. The sons are J. D. Murphy, J. P. Murphy of Washington state, and F. A. Murphy of Albany, N. Y.

Mr. Murphy who died in 1897, was during his active career a railroad contractor and figured prominently in the construction of a number of the leading lines of western Pennsylvania. At one time he was road supervisor of the middle division of the Philadelphia & Erie railroad, and had as his engineer the late A. J. Cassatt, who later became president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. Mrs. Murphy's maiden name was O'Brien and she was born in Erie.

Buick Creates a Sensation

Model 17 Buick 1910 car owned by Mr. Eldridge Tucker, Washington, Pa., made the remarkable time of 1 minute and 55 seconds in the Uniontown Mountain Climbing Contest. This time was much faster than cars selling at twice its cost.

The remarkable thing about the contest was that this car was formerly owned by T. J. Eckbreth, Monongahela and driven for three years when it went through a fire and was then sold to Mr. Tucker who had a special body built on it.

This is only another proof of Buick endurance and prove the claim made, that when Better Automobiles are built, Buick will build them. 282t1

NIRELLA HAS FAMOUS BAND

Eldora Park Attraction for Sunday Out of the Ordinary in Musical Way

A program of varied numbers that will include many classical selections as well as some of the best of the popular music of the day will be presented by Joseph Nirella and his famous Pittsburg band on Sunday afternoon and evening when they appear at Eldora Park. The afternoon concert will be given at 2:30 o'clock and the evening concert at o'clock.

Mr. Nirella will bring with him as soloists two Pittsburg boys who have made reputations in vaudeville as cabaret singers and as music demonstrators. They are Ben Felds, who as Peter Golden was once a newsboy and Maurice Rosen. Rosen is also a composer, one of his songs, "I Want Some One to Care For Me" having had a big sale. These boys will sing popular numbers. Mr. Rosen will feature "Southern Bay" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Mr. Fields will feature the "Yiddisher Ball" and "When The Midnight Choo-Choo Leaves For Alabam."

The song "Southern Bay" is a new one that has been issued from the composition of Mr. Nirella himself.

Special cars have been arranged for to be run between Eldora Park and the nearby towns. There will be fifteen minute service during Sunday afternoon and evening. It is confidently believed by the Eldora Park management that the Sunday crowd will be one of the biggest ever entertained at the park. The park is a cool place to be and a pleasant resort during the torrid days of summer.

SLAYTON WILL SPEAK AT ELDORA

Tomorrow John W. Slayton, who was once a candidate on the Scialist ticket fr Governor of Pennsylvania will lecture at Eldora Park on the subject, "The Power of the Working Class." The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Tri-County Socialist league at 2:30 o'clock.

SERCHING FOR WEBSTER GIRL WHO DISAPPEARED

Mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance from Donora of Freda Karcher, 14 years old, daughter of Mrs. Katrina Karcher, of Webster. The girl was employed at the home of Mrs. Mary Morton, of Thompson avenue, Donora last. She arose Friday morning last before the family was up and disappeared. All efforts to trace her have failed, although the police have been assisting in the search.

Mrs. Karcher is verging on distraction on account of the disappearance of her daughter. She cannot give the slightest clue to the cause of the girl's going away. Mrs. Karcher recently was divorced from her husband and has been making her living by doing work for various families, some of them in Donora.

NO MORE COUNTY HANGINGS

Governor Tener's signature of the Hess bill has abolished forever the practice of hanging murderers in Pennsylvania.

No more will the festive parties gather at county jails to see some degenerate hurried off into the next world. No more will the kindly sheriff cut the rope into bits for souvenirs, saving a few pieces for friends who wish to use them to conjure away ailments of one kind or another says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Under the new law there will be only one place of legal execution in the State—the new Western Penitentiary, now being erected in Center county—and the electrocution parties will be limited to the warden, a physician, a minister, a jury of six, representatives of six newspapers and the officers of the penitentiary.

It is a notable fact that not a single State bordering Pennsylvania with the exception of Maryland, clings to the old custom of hanging. Yet electrocution is by no means so general as this statement would seem to indicate. As yet only eight of the States have installed electric chairs for capital offenders. Thirty-six retain the gallows. Six have abolished the death penalty altogether and substituted life imprisonment. Two leave it optional with the murderer whether he will be hanged or shot.

Under the most favorable conditions, capital punishment is not a pleasant thing to contemplate, but Pennsylvania has undoubtedly made a long step forward by adopting the electrocution plan.

BE CAREFUL.

This is the season when grim death claims many of its victims through the medium of drowning. The news of the day is interspersed with accounts of people having lost their lives in water and the larger per cent of the victims are those who sought refreshment in a bath, according to the Beaver Times.

Year after year these fatalities occur, the number being continually on the increase. The sad record of one day seemingly carries no lesson to the pleasure seekers and a more appalling death record marks the close of each season.

It is not to be assumed that the sport of bathing will be in any degree rendered less popular by the perusal of the death record, but these sad statistics should have some influence with parents who are in the habit of permitting their children to go into the water at all times and places unattended.

A wholesale restraint on the part of the parents and guardians would undoubtedly result in the saving of many lives.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I want somebody to show me where to unload this coal," said the grimy looking man at the kitchen door.

"Well, you needn't ask me," replied the young woman thus addressed, as she tossed her head scornfully. "I'm the kitchen lady."

"Indeed" was the retort, "and I'm the coal gentleman the father of three kitchen ladies, one laundry lady, one chaulady, and if you don't show me where to put this coal I'll call for the woman of the house."

This was altogether too much for the haughty cook.

"I'll show you, sir," she ventured humbly, then meekly led the way to the coal cellar.

William D. Straight, the financier, was discussing the American bankers recent withdrawal from the Chinese loan.

"I like China," Mr. Straight said. "My regard for China will not let me conside her from a purely selfish and commercial viewpoint. I cannot in this matter put myself in the position of the young lady that was asked by her chum:

"'Do you think dear, that it's better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all?"

"'Why, of course it is,' the young lady replied, 'provided he lets you keep all his presents.'"

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs. Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2

SCALDS CAUSE BOY'S DEATH

Scalds about the shoulders and head received a week ago when he by accident upset a kettle of boiling water over his head resulted in the death Friday of Charles Revth, aged 6 years, the son of John Revth, a well known Slavok resident of Pricedale.

Young Revth was playing about the kitchen of his home last Saturday. On the stove sat a kettle of water boiling merrily. Through some means he uptilted it, and was unfortunate enough to receive the entire contents over his head and shoulders. Medical attention was immediately given. The scalds and shock together resulted in his death. The funeral will be held here and interment will be in the Charleroi cemetery.

GOOD RAILROAD THIS, BUT WHO IS THE OWNER

Pittsburg railroad men are still wondering to whom the Buchanan and Northern will finally belong and what steps will be taken to bring a final settlement says an exchange. The road, which is at present being constructed, is an extension of the Monongahela Railroad from the Pennsylvania State line to Fairmont, W. Va., and is owned jointly by the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio.

By a recent statute passed in West Virginia, however, railroads are prohibited from holding stock in competitive lines. As the Baltimore and Ohio runs parallel to the proposed line and as the Pennsylvania owns stock in the Baltimore and Ohio, it has become necessary for both roads to dispose of their Buchanan and Northern holdings before July. The Pennsylvania may be saved from any such action if it succeeds in exchanging the Baltimore and Ohio for Union Pacific stock and if this trade is made probable a stay of execution may be obtained in West Virginia until the object is accomplished.

Another theory advanced is that the New York Central will take over the entire line. It already owns one-half of the road and the other two companies own the other half jointly. It is denied by New York Central men, however, that any step in this direction has been taken or plans formulated. No special significance can be attached to the recent trip over the line by the New York Central officials as with the exception of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker none of the men were acquainted with the territory and it was solely for the reason of inspecting the improvements that the trip was made.

MOTHER OF INJURED BOY ASKS DAMAGES

John Wagner, a minor, by his next friend, Annie Wagner, his mother, and Annie Wagner, in her own behalf has filed a suit for damages against the West Penn Electric Co. In behalf of her son she claims $5,000 damages and in her own behalf the sum of $2,500 damages. This is alleged due by reason of personal injuries received by said minor when he came in contact with a high tension wire of the defendant company on the Speers-Belle Vernon bridge on May 26, 1912.

On the evening of that date, the statement sets forth, the said minor, who was nine years of age, was playing on said bridge and while doing so ran up a gradual slope of the heavy steel truss at the end of the bridge and as he turned to slide down the same his left hand came in contact with one of the defendant's wires.

It is averred that this wire had been placed in a careless and negligent manner within a few inches of the heavy steel truss, and the insulation of said wire had become torn away so that the wire was bare and exposed. The lad's hand came in contact with the wire and he received a severe shock and his hand was badly burned. As a result, it is set out, he was rendered unconscious for several hours, and was permanently injured. The second finger of his left hand had to be amputated and his hand was left crooked and disfigured and he has since suffered great pain.

The mother is a widow, she states, and when the lad reached a proper ag, would have been dependant upon him for support, and she also expended considerable money for medical attention for the lad when injured.

NEW BLAST FURNACES TO BE FIRED JULY 1

Improvements and Additions at Monessen About Completed

FREIGHT CASE IS WON

Pittsburg Steel Company Benefits Through Decision of Commerce Commission

Orders have been issued to the statement to the foremen of the Pittsburg Steel plant at Monessen to be in readiness for the starting of the new blast furnaces there on July 1. It is understood that one furnace will be started at this time.

In connection with this eventful era in the history of the Pittsburg Steel, comes the news of the ruling of the Inter-State Commerce commission that railroads shall equalize the freight rate on ore haulage from the ore fields of the Lake ports, giving the Pittsburg district the same rate as the Wheeling district which is considered a great victory in a commercial way.

It directly affects the Monessen plant as it will greatly reduce the cost of raw material and allow the mill to make their own pig iron at a minimum cost and place them in line to meet the keen competition which is gradually growing keener all the time.

The fight was made on this issue by the Pittsburg Steel Co., and the decision rendered is glad news to the many independent concerns not only in the iron and steel industry, but in the coke, coal, glass and other lines of business, and railroad companies are given until August 15 to adjust when it is presumed that the 60c rate will be granted the Pittsburg district on ore tramc, the same as to Wheeling, a reduction of 30 cents a ton and this will mean a saving of millions of dollars annually to manufacturers in this district.

WORK ON CROSS COUNTY RAILROAD WELL UNDER WAY

Active work on the construction of the Montour railroad the route of which is across the county is going on at various points along the line. The Ferguson Construction company has been awarded the contract for the grading of the roadbed from the Bell tunnel below Greens Station, north west to the McConnell farm, and men are arriving and material is being received daily. A number of the men employed in the work have their families with them, and will live in tents and shacks during the summer.

The contract has not yet been let for the 80-foot cut on the Bell farm. This cut is so close to the tunnel on the Charleroi railway that contractors say there is danger of the blasting causing a cave-in in the Bell tunnel.

The East End Construction company is now engaged in building the cement piers at the creek near the Bell tunnel. The piers will be forty feet high. As a result of the active construction work now going on there is much activity down the valley, and new people are arriving daily.

Further south, as well as at points further north, the work of grading is being pushed with vigor and the fall will see the work well advanced.

Monessen Has Market

Curb Sale of Farm and Garden Truck is Started This Morning

An eage demand for green stuff from the farm was shown when the Market House was opened this morning for the first time. The demand was greater than the supply, there not being many farmers there.

The Monessen market will be located on Fourth street between Schoonmaker and Donner alternate every Tuesday and Saturday.

LINCOLN AVENUE TORN UP

Charleroi Water Company Installing New Water Mains

WILL BETTER SERVICE

Practically all of Lincoln avenue between Thirteenth street and Third street is torn up and the Charleroi Water company is engaged in the work of installing a large main running from Second street to the lower end of town.

From Second street to Sixth street there will be a 12-inch main installed. From that point to Eleventh street there will be a 12 inch main installed. From that point to Eleventh street a 14-inch main has already been laid. The new line will give a better flow of water to the entire system, though it is designed particularly to afford a flow of water direct from the pumping station to Monessen and Donora. The pressure will be stronger for those two towns and for the hill section of Chalreroi as well through the change.

FUNERAL WILLIAM COURTLEY SUNDAY

Funeral services will be conducted for William Courtley, Sr., late of Dunlevy on Sunday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock at the United Brethren church at Dunlevy. The funeral party will meet at the Courtley home at 12:15 o'clock, and from there go to the church. The body will be taken on a special car leaving Dunlevy at 2 o'clock to Monongahela, where interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

DAMAGE WROUGHT BY SEVERE WINDSTORM

Gale Blows for Short Time Friday Evening---Trees Blown Down---House on Shady Avenue Has Roof Removed

One of the hottest days of the year was brought to a close Friday evening by a wind and hail storm that came near being disastrous. Some damage was done in the country surrounding Charleroi where the large hail stones pounded down some of the growing crops.

The storm preceded by semi-darkness came at about 7:30. When it blew a terrific gale. Following it came the rain and hail which lasted about half an hour.

On Shady avenue near Third street the roof of a dwelling house was lifted and tossed on the ground as though it were a piece of cardboard. Some trees were broken. At the Pittsburg Plate Glass plant whirling winds ripped off a generator. Telephone wires and electric light wires bore well the trouble, with the exception of one pole on the West Penn Electric line which was blown down and shattered. The Monongahela Railway suffered severely.

MOTHER OF MRS. E. C. NIVER DIES

Mrs. Mary Murphy Expires Following Long Illness at Home in Johnsonburg

E. C. Niver of the city and his son George E. Niver left this morning for Johnsonburg, Elk county, being called there by the death of Mrs. Niver's mother, Mrs. Mary Murphy, widow of the late J. L. Murphy, who died Friday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Murphy had been critically ill for some time, and Mrs. Niver had been at the bedside of her mother for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Murphy is survived by four daughters are Mrs. Geo. L. Roberts of Pittsburg, Mrs. E. C. Niver of Charleroi, Mrs. M. J. Considine of Philadelphia and Miss Margaret M. Murphy of Johnsonburg. The sons are J. D. Murphy, J. P. Murphy of Washington state, and F. A. Murphy of Albany, N. Y.

Mr. Murphy who died in 1897, was during his active career a railroad contractor and figured prominently in the construction of a number of the leading lines of western Pennsylvania. At one time he was road supervisor of the middle division of the Philadelphia & Erie railroad, and had as his engineer the late A. J. Cassatt, who later became president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. Mrs. Murphy's maiden name was O'Brien and she was born in Erie.

Buick Creates a Sensation

Model 17 Buick 1910 car owned by Mr. Eldridge Tucker, Washington, Pa., made the remarkable time of 1 minute and 55 seconds in the Uniontown Mountain Climbing Contest. This time was much faster than cars selling at twice its cost.

The remarkable thing about the contest was that this car was formerly owned by T. J. Eckbreth, Monongahela and driven for three years when it went through a fire and was then sold to Mr. Tucker who had a special body built on it.

This is only another proof of Buick endurance and prove the claim made, that when Better Automobiles are built, Buick will build them. 282t1

Lady Maccabees are requested to meet at 6:45 o'clock Sunday evening at the P. H. C. hall to go to the First Presbyterian church where Rev. J. T. Hackett will conduct memorial services. By order of the Lady Commander. 281-2

NIRELLA HAS FAMOUS BAND

A [illegible] of trained musicians has will include many classical selections as well as some of the best of the popular music of the day will be presented by Joseph Nirella and his famous Pittsburg band on Sunday afternoon and evening when they appear at Eldora Park. The afternoon concert will be given at 2:30 o'clock and the evening concert at o'clock.

Mr. Nirella will bring with him as soloists two Pittsburg boys who have made reputations in vaudeville as cabaret singers and as music demonstrators. They are Ben Felds, who as Peter Golden was once a newsboy and Maurice Rosen. Rosen is also a composer, one of his songs, "I Want Some One to Care For Me" having had a big sale. These boys will sing popular numbers. Mr. Rosen will feature "Southern Bay" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Mr. Fields will feature the "Yiddisher Ball" and "When The Midnight Choo-Choo Leaves For Alabam."

The song "Southern Bay" is a new one that has been issued from the composition of Mr. Nirella himself.

Special cars have been arranged for to be run between Eldora Park and the nearby towns. There will be fifteen minute service during Sunday afternoon and evening. It is confidently believed by the Eldora Park management that the Sunday crowd will be one of the biggest ever entertained at the park. The park is a cool place to be and a pleasant resort during the torrid days of summer.

SLAYTON WILL SPEAK AT ELDORA

SEARCHING FOR WEBSTER GIRL WHO DISAPPEARED

Mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance from Donora of Freda Karcher, 14 years old, daughter of Mrs. Katrina Karcher, of Webster. The girl was employed at the home of Mrs. Mary Morton, of Thompson avenue, Donora last. She arose Friday morning last before the family was up and disappeared. All efforts to trace her have failed, although the police have been assisting in the search.

Mrs. Karcher is verging on distraction on account of the disappearance of her daughter. She cannot give the slightest clue to the cause of the girl's going away. Mrs. Karcher recently was divorced from her husband and has been making her living by doing work for various families, some of them in Donora.

NO MORE COUNTY HANGINGS

Governor Tener's signature of the Hess bill has abolished forever the practice of hanging murderers in Pennsylvania.

No more will the festive parties gather at county jails to see some degenerate hurried off into the next world. No more will the kindly sheriff cut the rope into bits for souvenirs, saving a few pieces for friends who wish to use them to conjure away ailments of one kind or another says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

Under the new law there will be only one place of legal execution in the State—the new Western Penitentiary, now being erected in Center county—and the electrocution parties will be limited to the warden, a physician, a minister, a jury of six, representatives of six newspapers and the officers of the penitentiary.

It is a notable fact that not a single State bordering Pennsylvania with the exception of Maryland, clings to the old custom of hanging. Yet electrocution is by no means so general as this statement would seem to indicate. As yet only eight of the States have installed electric chairs for capital offenders. Thirty-six retain the gallows. Six have abolished the death penalty altogether and substituted life imprisonment. Two leave it optional with the murderer whether he will be hanged or shot.

Under the most favorable conditions, capital punishment is not a pleasant thing to contemplate, but Pennsylvania has undoubtedly made a long step forward by adopting the electrocution plan.

BE CAREFUL.

This is the season when grim death claims many of its victims through the medium of drowning. The news of the day is interspersed with accounts of people having lost their lives in water and the larger per cent of the victims are those who sought refreshment in a bath, according to the Beaver Times.

Year after year these fatalities occur, the number being continually on the increase. The sad record of one day seemingly carries no lesson to the pleasure seekers and a more appalling death record marks the close of each season.

It is not to be assumed that the cause of bathing will be in any degree considered less popular by the people because of the death record, but these sad statistics should have some influence with parents who are in the habit of permitting their children to go into the water at all times and places unattended.

A wholesale restraint on the part of the parents and guardians would undoubtedly result in the saving of many lives.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I want somebody to show me where to unload this coal," said the grimy looking man at the kitchen door.

"Well, you needn't ask me," replied the young woman thus addressed, as she tossed her head scornfully. "I'm the kitchen lady."

"Indeed" was the retort, "and I'm the coal gentleman the father of three kitchen ladies, one laundry lady, one chaulady, and if you don't show me where to put this coal I'll call for the woman of the house."

This was altogether too much for the haughty cook.

"I'll show you, sir," she ventured humbly, then meekly led the way to the coal cellar.

William D. Straight, the banker, was discussing the American bankers recent withdrawal from the Chinese loan.

"I like China," Mr. Straight said. "My regard for China will not let me consider her from a purely selfish and commercial viewpoint. I cannot in this matter put myself in the position of the young lady that was asked by her chum:

"'Do you think dear, that it's better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all?'

"'Why, of course it is,' the young lady replied, 'provided he lets you keep all his presents.'"

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs. Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2

Blessed Pocketbook; $20 Missing.

Two smooth fingered women of the gypsy band that relieved two merchants of northern Washington county of sums of money continued their operations when they arrived in Washington and as a result the nomads had to hike out. Two women supposedly the same that procured money from the Burgettstown and Hickory men, came into the town soon after the band had gone into camp on the old Washington fair grounds at Washington. Entering the Arcadium they cornered J. M. Clark and insisted on telling his fortune. After this they wanted to bless his pocketbook and he permitted them to do so. During the blessing act $20 disappeared from it.

SCALDS CAUSE BOY'S DEATH

Scalds about the shoulders and head received a week ago when he by accident upset a kettle of boiling water over his head resulted in the death Friday of Charles Revth, aged 6 years, the son of John Revth, a well known Slavok resident of Pricedale.

Young Revth was playing about the kitchen of his home last Saturday. On the stove sat a kettle of water boiling merrily. Through some means he uptilted it, and was unfortunate enough to receive the entire contents over his head and shoulders. Medical attention was immediately given. The scalds and shock together resulted in his death. The funeral will be held here and interment will be in the Charleroi cemetery.

GOOD RAILROAD

THIS, BUT WHO IS THE OWNER

Pittsburg railroad men are still wondering to whom the Buchanan and Northern will finally belong and what steps will be taken to bring a final settlement says an exchange. The road, which is at present being constructed, is an extension of the Monongahela Railroad from the Pennsylvania State line to Fairmont, W. Va., and is owned jointly by the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio.

By a recent statute passed in West Virginia, however, railroads are prohibited from holding s tock in competitive lines. As the Baltimore and Ohio runs parallel to the proposed line and as the Pennsylvania owns stock in the Baltimore and Ohio, it has become necessary for both roads to dispose of their Buchanan and Northern holdings before July. The Pennsylvania may be saved from any such action if it succeeds in exchanging the Baltimore and Ohio for Union Pacific stock and if this trade is made probable a stay of execution may be obtained in West Virginia until the object is accomplished.

Another theory advanced is that the New York Central will take ove the entire line. It already owns one-half of the road and the other two companies own the other half jointly. It is denied by New York Central men, however, that any step in this direction has been taken or plans formulated. No special significance can be attached to the recent trip over the line by the New York Central officials as with the exception of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker none of the men were acquainted with the territory and it was solely for the reason of inspecting the improvements that the trip was made.

MOTHER OF INJURED BOY ASKS DAMAGES

John Wagner, a minor, by his next friend, Annie Wagner, his mother, and Annie Wagner, in her own behalf has filed a suit for damages against the West Penn Electric Co. In behalf of her son she claims $5,000 damages and in her own behalf the sum of $2,500 damages. This is alleged due by reason of personal injuries received by said minor when he came in contact with a high tension wire of the defendant company on the Speers-Belle Vernon bridge on May 26, 1912.

On the evening of that date, the statement sets forth, the said minor, who was nine years of age, was playing on said bridge and while doing so ran up a gradual slope of the heavy steel truss at the end of the bridge and as he turned to slide down the same his left hand came in contact with one of the defendant's wires.

It is averred that this wire had been placed in a careless and negligent manner within a few inches of the heavy steel truss, and the insulation of said wire had become torn away so that the wire was bare and exposed. The lad's hand came in contact with the wire and he received a severe shock and his hand was badly burned. As a result, it is set out, he was rendered unconscious for several hours, and was permanently injured. The second finger of his left hand had to be amputated and his hand was left crooked and disfigured and he has since suffered great pain.

The mother is a widow, she states, and when the lad reached a proper ag, would have been dependant upon him for support and she also expended considerable money for medical attention for the lad when injured.
